

ANZACPE Conference

STAYIN' ALIVE 2024

The KOMO, Redcliffe Queensland

25 – 29 AUGUST 2024

Poetry and soul work in supervision

Exploring themes in educating and supervising
pastoral carers

Loving others without losing yourself

Expression of Interest by 29 March 2024

*****LINK HERE*****

Early Bird Registration 30 June 2024

Final Registration 26 July 2024

secretary@qicpe.com

Introducing our Speakers

Liz Crumlish

Liz Crumlish is a priest in the Scottish Episcopal Church with a portfolio that includes Ministerial Education and formation, teaching Cross Professional Supervision and providing supervision and reflective practice. She has published several books of reflections on Biblical texts with a feminist slant and, with Michael Paterson contributed to books on Creative Supervision and on Group Supervision. Details can be found: Liz Crumlish - Associate, Scotland - The Institute of Pastoral Supervision & Reflective Practice \(ipsrp.org.uk\). Liz lives in the south west coast of Scotland.

Jim Schirmer

Jim Schirmer is a counsellor, lecturer, researcher and author. He has close to 20 years' experience in counselling and pastoral care roles, predominantly working with young people and refugee and asylum seeker communities.

Academic and professional publishing

Meryem & Greg Brown

Meryem and Greg are committed to integrating faith principles and social science research. They are particularly interested in personhood: the integration of the public, private and secret self; the role and soul; the persona and the shadow.

Meryem is a registered psychologist and operated a private practice for 28 years. She now specialises in the supervision of pastors and leaders.

Greg is a PACFA registered counsellor, with experience in accounting, administration, management and pastoral work. He operates a counselling/pastoral supervision practice. Together, Greg and Meryem have specialised in clergy care and member care for over 30 years. The Browns are both accredited as Senior Supervisors with APSE.

Location & Accommodation

Redcliffe (Kau-in-Kau-in), the traditional home of the Gubbi Gubbi and Ningy Ningy people, is located on the shores of the beautiful Moreton Bay Region, just 28 kms northeast of Brisbane. The area boasts a rich history, natural wonders and plenty of things to do.

Bee Gees Way, the local homage to the famous brothers who spent time honing their musical gifts on the Redcliffe foreshore, inspired the theme for this year's conference 'STAYIN' ALIVE - as CPE supervisors'.

The Oaks Mon Komo Hotel offers apartments and hotel rooms. Bookings can be made directly with Bec [Front desk Supervisor]

P: 07 3283 9300

E: frontofficemonkomo@theoaksgroup.com.au

TIP: Join Oaks Discovery Rewards Program and save 10% off your booking.

Last, but not least ....

You are invited to the Post Conference Education in Supervision

29-30/31 August 2024

All Provisional and Accredited CPSupps and CPEds welcome